

MINERS READY TO ATTACK AS CITIZENS ARM

Repetition of West Virginia Onslaughts Is Expected in Illinois Towns.

GOVERNOR TO MAKE INQUIRY

Men and Women, Heavily Armed, Defy Miners to Come Near Their Homes.

By United Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill. — Adjutant Gen. Frank S. Dickson George Arnold, director of labor and Robert McGill, director of mines and minerals, left here Thursday to investigate conditions at Rosiclare where 2,000 miners are reported armed and ready to descend upon the town.

The investigating body will make the trip by automobile.

Adjutant General Dickson, who is in charge of the arrangements for the trip, indicated he believes the use of troops will be unnecessary.

Fight to Last

Elizabethtown, Ill. — Citizens and deputies will fight to the last to prevent miners from invading Rosiclare and Elizabethtown. Sheriff E. N. Cox told the United Press Thursday.

Cox said citizens were armed and ready to protect the sovereignty of the two mining towns.

Nearly one thousand striking miners were bivouaced in the hills near Elizabethtown, prepared to march on Rosiclare and this city today, Cox said.

Early today the situation was quiet. Armed guards and deputies traversed the roads leading to Elizabethtown to meet the miners if they attempted to attack.

Karbers Ridge today looked like an army camp as miners gathered to join the invading army.

By Loyd W. Miller
Mt. Storm Town

Rosiclare, Ill. — Every man and woman in this mining town of 2,000 was armed today waiting the attack of miners camped nearby, reported planned for today.

The armed guards were under command of Walter Howard town marshal.

Howard declared he did not believe the miners would actually launch their attack but said they were preparing to meet any attempt to storm the town. Howard said there had not been a clash between striking miners and guards or deputies for two weeks. He denied reports of a clash in which deputies claimed to have taken four prisoners.

Telephones wires which were cut were replaced today and Rosiclare was again able to communicate with the outside world, giving the residents more of a feeling of security. They knew they could send out appeals for assistance in case the striking miners should attack.

Mount Machine Guns

Machine guns were mounted on the main roads Thursday to repel an expected advance of several hundred men reported to be marching on Rosiclare.

The guard reliefs are posted night and morning. Guards are armed with rifles, shot guns, revolvers and weapons of all descriptions. Even ten rifles used by the Rosiclare post of the American Legion for use at funerals have been pressed into service.

Miners had two motives for an attack on Elizabethtown. To free five miners captured yesterday and to replenish their food supplies, reported to be depleted. The five men were captured when sheriff's deputies stopped three automobiles carrying 15 armed miners. The other ten miners fled.

Company Owns Town

Practically the entire town is owned and controlled by the three mining companies. A half interest in the largest mine is owned by Edward B. McLean, owner of the Rosiclare Enquirer and the Washington Post.

Fighting among the union forces was inflamed last day when, it is reported Ed. Carbone made speeches at Harrisburg.

Carbone is reported by the sheriff's forces here to have told the union miners that women and children of Fluorspar miners who joined the union at Rosiclare were being shot down. These stories are false.

Reports that Fluorspar miners who joined the union had been driven out of Rosiclare for so doing were denied Thursday by W. P. Hanson, superintendent of the Rosiclare mines.

WOULD MAKE BIRTH CONTROL LAWFUL

Washington, D. C. — Legalization of birth control instruction is the aim of some of the women's organizations backing maternity legislation now pending in congress. Miss Alice Itoh, Oklahoma, the only woman member of congress, charged Thursday.

Dissemination of birth control instruction probably would be possible under Sheppard-Towner maternity bill, recently passed by the senate she said in a statement published in today's issue of the Congressional Record.

Miss Robertson vigorously assails the Sheppard-Towner bill, Montana, the first woman member of congress, declaring she is a member of the national council of the Voluntary Parenthood league.

WORLD TOO UPSET TO ENACT TARIFF BILL THIS YEAR

Address of Will Hays Reveals Inside Situation—Job Exceeds Expectations.

By David Lawrence
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.

Washington—The death knell of tariff legislation this year has been sounded. President Harding still expresses the hope that Congress may pass a tariff measure this year but the true state of administration feeling about what will happen is expressed by Will Hays, postmaster general, who after a long conference at the White House the other day prepared a speech for delivery in Cleveland which has just been released and contains this significant prediction:

"Referring to one phase of the activity at Washington, peculiarly economic—the tariff. To thoughtful men there must be approval of a certain legislation and disposition to be cautious and a determination to be surefooted in the consideration of this subject. If I were to attempt to express a summing up of the present state of mind of Congress and thoughtful men about the tariff it would seem to me that it amounts to a feeling that the present year is not a good one in which a permanent tariff bill to last for many years to come.

"Conditions throughout the world are too chaotic to be able to formulate legislation and disposition to be cautious and a determination to be surefooted in the consideration of this subject. If I were to attempt to express a summing up of the present state of mind of Congress and thoughtful men about the tariff it would seem to me that it amounts to a feeling that the present year is not a good one in which a permanent tariff bill to last for many years to come.

"Conditions throughout the world are too chaotic to be able to formulate legislation and disposition to be cautious and a determination to be surefooted in the consideration of this subject. If I were to attempt to express a summing up of the present state of mind of Congress and thoughtful men about the tariff it would seem to me that it amounts to a feeling that the present year is not a good one in which a permanent tariff bill to last for many years to come.

Task Is Difficult

These conditions of fluctuation and instability which make the writing of a permanent tariff so difficult at the moment may in some measure be relieved after the disarming conference has taken place and we have assembled at which the president has in mind for the adjustment of our international relations.

If Will Hays were simply the usual cabinet philosopher his utterances might not carry as much significance as they do, but he was chairman of the Republican National Committee and managed the last presidential campaign during which time hopes for a tariff were expressed by many Republicans only to be offset by vigorous opposition from New York and business men. He believed that America as a creditor nation should not erect a tariff wall which would keep American ships from carrying return cargoes. The truth is the administration has discovered that export trade of the United States is not an insignificant factor in a business revival and that wars and means must be found not only to finance but to stimulate imports. To those who have contended that with the improvement in international exchanges and the rise in the purchasing power of Europe, American producers would again enjoy the world trade there have been having in the last few years the tariff has seemed like an anachronism. The United States Chamber of Commerce has on many an occasion pointed out this difficulty.

The meaning of Will Hays' speech therefore is simply that the administration will eventually write a permanent tariff bill to protect industries that need protection but it will not commit itself to a blanket policy of protection which will keep out imports. It will try to write a tariff that will encourage imports that ought to be encouraged and discourage the kind that will ruin American industry. Its more of a job than was first reckoned upon and will not be composed of as hastily as was the emergency tariff. The chances are that the disarming conference which the postmaster general says may be a factor in the problem will not be concluded until the early part of next year.

ELIHU ROOT MAY ATTEND BIG MEET

Party Leader Confers With Harding and Hughes About Conference.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C. — Elihu Root, after two long conferences with President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes here Thursday, declined to deny reports that he would become a member of the American delegation at the conference on limitation of armaments.

Asked directly whether he would be an American disarmament representative, Root hesitated and then replied "You will have to ask the president about that."

Root in conference pledged the complete cooperation of the Carnegie peace foundation to the government during the disarmament conference, by President Harding.

Details as to how the information now contained by the foundation can be placed before the conference were discussed, it was said.

DRY ENFORCERS TO LAUNCH BIG DRIVE

HOUSEHOLD GOODS MAY BE SMUGGLED WHISKY

By United Press Leased Wire
Minneapolis, Minn. — Some of the liquor recently smuggled ashore on the Atlantic coast was believed to have been seized here today. Ten thousand dollars worth of Scotch, Irish and English bottled whisky was found in 11 barrels labeled "household goods" and shipped here in a freight car from Chicago.

The consignment was addressed to a prominent Minneapolis business man, and a warrant for his arrest was to be issued late today.

Bullets Fly In Gotham War Between Gangsters

New York—War has broken out here between Manhattan and Brooklyn gangsters.

Invading Manhattan during the night, Brooklyn gangsters in an automobile engaged in a revolver duel with a number of their rivals near Fifty-eighth street and Ninth avenue. Police joined in the shooting.

Paul Mitchell, 50, a spectator of the encounter, was shot in the arm. Five were arrested.

A dispute over bootleg profits and the murder of "Goo Goo" Knox last week are believed by police to have started the gang feud.

Hostilities started Tuesday night when shots were fired on a street corner in the Tenderloin. One of the gang doing the shooting was said to have been a woman.

Witnesses of the battle which started late last night said a woman was in the auto from which shots were fired at men on the sidewalk.

Pedestrians flung themselves flat on the pavement or ran into doorways as the shots rang out.

Police had advance information that a clash was imminent and were already patrolling the neighborhood. Eight members of the police "strong-arm" squad approached in an automobile while the shooting was at its height.

The gangsters on the sidewalk fled while those in the motor car directed their fire at the police. The girl took the wheel, it was said, so the chauffeur could use his revolver. Police returned the fire. A running fight followed.

ASK IRISH TO LAY CARDS ON CABINET TABLE

Note to DeValera Sets Fears at Rest That Negotiations Were Abandoned.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—President De Valera was invited to bring Irish plenipotentiaries to meet with a special committee of the British cabinet and discuss the Irish situation face to face on or about September 20 in a note sent by the cabinet to Ireland yesterday and made public today.

The British note points out to De Valera that government by consent of the governed is a fundamental part of the British constitution but insists that such a principle cannot be accepted as a basis for the proposed conference.

Ireland must remain within the empire the British note says.

The text of the British cabinet's reply to the latest note from President De Valera was published here Thursday. The British note, which was handed to Sinn Fein's envoy yesterday at Inverness read as follows:

"The principle of government by consent of the governed is a fundamental part of British constitutional development but we cannot accept as a basis for a practical conference an interpretation of that principle which will commit us to grant any demands which might present event to the extent of setting up a republic and repudiating the crown.

"You are aware that a conference on such a basis is impossible."

MARKET BODY FREE FROM POLITICS IS NEED OF FARMERS

Congressman Anderson Tells Inquiry How to Remedy Depression.

By Fraser Edwards
Washington, D. C. — A marketing organization, absolutely free from politics, is the greatest need of the American farmer, Representative Anderson Minnesota chairman of the joint congressional commission of agricultural inquiry declared Thursday.

A cooperative marketing organization would increase quality quantity and prices of farm products, he said in characterizing as "bunk" attempts to get these results by political action.

"Too many organizations are built along the lines of political action and, instead of endeavoring to work out their own problems, occupy their time largely in passing resolutions and making recommendations to congress," Anderson said.

"They're pastmasters of passing the buck. Frankly Congress is passing that sort of buck back to them."

Anderson was equally frank concerning organizations which attempt to bring about an agricultural millennium by legislation. That type of organization, he said, ends in an inevitable smashup.

Three outstanding benefits that would result from a marketing organization, cited by Anderson, are:

1.—The cost of grading products to make them marketable would be eliminated.

2.—Additional influence over the price of his commodity would enable the farmer to compare with the great buying power of organized industry.

3.—Better distribution enabling the farmer to deliver his product at the time and at the place when and where it is needed.

"The first thing to do is to make a thorough study of the production end, that is, get an efficient unit of production and then relate that unit as nearly as possible to a market," Anderson said.

THINK BUILDING CUT WAS TOO DEEP

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill. — Acceptance by the building trades workers of Chicago of the cut in wages decreed by Judge K. M. Landis, arbiter in the dispute with their employers, was forecast Thursday. Representatives of the workers will meet Friday to vote on the new wage schedule.

The workers were plainly disappointed with the judge's award, feeling that it was more liberal than they expected. They expected Thomas Kearney, president of the building trades council, "but we selected him and I expect we will abide by his decision. There is nothing else for us to do."

STATE TREASURY TAXED HEAVILY TO PAY BILLS

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—No public funds are available for the relief of the state's unemployed, according to Henry Johnson, state treasurer in a letter to Governor John J. Rhine Thursday.

The state treasury is being depleted rapidly and it will require the most rigid economy to keep the state's bills paid until the next taxes are collected, the treasurer said.

The general fund of the state showed an expenditure of $4,840,000 since July 1, the letter stated.

Later Meyer related his experience to Stanley Raun, a real deputy sheriff. Raun captured the bogus speed cop and jailed him.

Hall had a motorcycle, a star and everything.

Effort To Block Move Of No Avail

Spirited Fight Ensues in Council Meeting Wednesday Night When Motion Is Presented to Proceed With Construction.

By a vote of six to five the contract for Lawest bridge was awarded to the Wausau Iron and Bridge Works at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening. The cost is to be $59,700. Those voting in favor of the resolution providing for its construction according to plans and specifications previously adopted were Aldermen Beske, Fiedler, Hanson, Lappen, McGillan and Murphy and those opposed to it were Aldermen Foss, Laabs, Meyer, Smith and Wood.

The ballot was preceded by a lengthy and spirited discussion during which attempts were made to adjourn and to lay the matter on the table until a subsequent meeting. The discussion in favor of the passage of the resolution was led by Alderman Hanson who insisted upon immediate steps being taken on the ground the matter had been pending for over a year and that further delay was unnecessary. Alderman Laabs led the opposition and favored a postponement of action until the city planning commission had made its report.

Committee Report Read

Several aldermen expressed their views pro and con and Mayor J. A. Hawes called attention to a meeting of the Lawest bridge committee, an informal committee consisting of 10 prominent manufacturers and citizens which he appointed for the purpose of getting their views. The proceedings of the meeting were read by the clerk and appear herewith:

Meeting of Lawest bridge committee. Chamber of Commerce Aug. 11, 1921. Present W. C. Wing, chairman, Thomas W. Orban, A. C. Remley, George Packard, Herman G. Sawyer, J. Gus Ka, John Traas, and a number of other citizens.

"Chairman Wing informed the committee that it was at the request of Mayor Hawes, chairman of the city planning commission that the meeting be called. The mayor asked the committee to make a study of the needs of Lawest bridge the type of bridge best suited to meet these needs; and the kind of material of which the bridge should be constructed.

"After some discussion the committee was unanimous in that there is need for the bridge for fire protection; as an outlet for industries, as a short and easy way for employees to go to and from work; and that it would tend to relieve the congested condition existing on Lawest bridge.

"As to the type of bridge the committee unanimously favored a low level trestle bridge with about 8 per cent grade from the north side of the river up to the intersection of Alton-st.

"As to material the committee went on record as favoring a concrete bridge providing the cost would not be too excessive. If the cost was found to be too great the committee felt that a steel bridge would be satisfactory.

The three questions were unanimously adopted and signed by each member of the committee.

To Cost $59,700

The plans and specifications previously adopted by the common council call for a steel structure with a grade slightly in excess of 5 per cent and to cost about $59,700.

A recess was taken to permit the aldermen to inspect the plans. Upon the council being called to order a motion to adjourn was lost by a vote of 6 to 5. Those in favor of adjourning were Aldermen Foss, Laabs, Meyer, Smith and Wood opposed Aldermen Beske, Fiedler, Hanson, Lappen, McGillan and Murphy. A motion to lay the resolution on the table was lost by a vote of 6 to 5.

It was brought out during the discussion that the low level bridge, or 8 per cent grade, would strike the north bank of the river about midway of Lawest hill while the plans and specifications of the structure ordered built carry the bridge or the approach to the top of the hill.

U. S. MAY SANCTION MANDATES IN EAST

Government Claims Right to Voice in Settlement of European Affairs.

London.—Britain's reply to the note from the United States with reference to mandates was under consideration today.

The state department's note, the United Press was authoritatively informed, points out that since the United States assisted in the defeat of Germany she is entitled to a voice in the disposal of German territories.

The note also claims a voice in the disposal of former Turkish domains, it was said and points out that the Turkish defeat was accomplished through that of Germany.

The confidence of the American government that mandates can be arranged "if certain suggestions are given due consideration," is expressed. The suggestions were said to concern the rights of the United States citizens in places such as Mesopotamia and Palestine.

UNEMPLOYMENT CONGRESS TO MEET IN TWO WEEKS

By United Press Leased Wire

He indicated that it will be composed of about thirty delegates. Whether agriculture will be represented was discussed Thursday by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace with the President.

WATER DEPT. WILL RETURN $17,000 TO CITY TREASURY

Council Asks Return of Appropriation Now That Rates Are Increased.

At its meeting in the city hall Wednesday evening the common council rescinded its action of Feb. 2, 1921, relative to $17,000 that was to be turned over to the water department and the department was requested to pay the city the taxes due. The action of the council was taken prior to the order issued by the Wisconsin rate commission providing for increased rates. At that time there was a deficit in the operation of the plant.

The passage of the resolution involved a discussion of the waterworks department. Mayor Hanes was of the opinion that the department could be handled more economically by the council and as that body is in direct charge of all other departments of the city he saw no reason why the water department should be made an exception.

By reason of the nearness of an oil company's warehouse to the pump-out piles of the Riverside Fibre Co. and because of the inadequate number of hydrants in the immediate vicinity, the council granted the installation of two additional hydrants upon recommendation of George E. McGowan, chief of the fire department. Chief McGowan was granted a leave of absence to attend the international convention of the Association of Fire Chiefs to be held at Atlanta, Ga., in October.

The request of the board of education for a loan of $12,000 until Feb. 1, 1922, to defray current expenses, was granted. Bills amounting to $32,715 were allowed.

Petitions relating to additional street lights, improvements of streets and extension of water mains were referred to their proper committees.

BUS FEE IS CUT BY NEENAH COUNCIL

Eastern Wisconsin Electric Company Given Five Years to Pay Paving.

Neenah—The common council of the city of Neenah met in its regular bi-monthly session on Wednesday evening at the city hall.

An ordinance was passed which repealed one of the recent bus line ordinances and provides for a license fee of $50 for every motor bus operating as a common carrier in the city of Neenah. This makes the previous ordinance providing for a license fee of $100 of no effect. The other two bus line ordinances are to remain as passed, the one providing for a parking place on South Commercial-st. and the other that the busses must operate on a schedule which allows a 10-minute difference from the street car company time.

The council granted the request of the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company to be given a period of five years over which to pay its Main-st. paving costs.

The request of the Wisconsin Telephone company to be given permission to strap their poles on the new Main-st. bridge when erected instead of being required to place poles in the water, was refused.

The Neenah fire department was called out about 4:30 Wednesday afternoon to the Sorenson dock where, a launch owned by John Jackson of Neenah had caught fire. It seems that a boy had lighted a cigarette on the dock and the match becoming too hot, threw it into the launch, where it quickly set fire to the gasoline and oil near the engine. The department quickly extinguished the blaze and excepting for the fact that the inner lining of the boat was destroyed no serious damage resulted.

The Chinese laundryman, Charlie Mier, who operates the laundry on North Commercial-st., spent Wednesday evening in the Neenah jail as a result of being arrested Wednesday on the complaint of a 17 year old Neenah girl, and one of his laundry employees. The man is being held on a statutory offense but the Neenah authorities, although they say they have enough evidence to convict the man are not yet decided as to what charge to bring against him.

MORE CAPITAL ON EASY PAY TERMS WILL AID HOUSING

H. G. Thomas Finds 85 Per Cent of People Own Homes.
Few for Sale.

Contrary to a belief entertained by many people, there are few desirable houses for sale in Appleton, declares H. G. Thomas who has just completed a survey of house property in the main residence sections of the city. "I don't mean by that," said Mr. Thomas, "that there are not a considerable number of good houses for sale. I wish merely to correct a false impression. Some people have the idea that they can buy any house in the city. Perhaps that is true."

man will always sell if he can get a tempting offer. But there are only a limited number of house owners who would consider selling on the basis of practical values."

The survey completed by Mr. Thomas shows that 85 per cent of Appleton people own their own homes. Most of them would not consider selling unless tempted by a special price as they have no intention of leaving the city and they know that the housing situation is just as acute in many other places as here.

"It is my belief," Mr. Thomas said, "that people here will have to invest their money in Appleton before the housing situation can be relieved. There seems to be little money here to put into homes. That condition will have to change. There will also have to be a new selling plan in order that more people may have a chance to buy homes. Practically the only terms offered here now in transferring a house is one-half cash down and a first mortgage on the balance bearing a high rate of interest."

In other places it is possible to buy house property by paying down 10 per cent of the principal and one per cent every month. This would mean an initial payment of $500 on a $5,000 home and $50 per month thereafter. It will be necessary to have companies organized to finance such a proposition here before much relief from the house shortage can be felt."

It is the belief of Mr. Thomas that prices of real estate in desirable locations here will continue to advance. The reason he thinks so is that people hesitate to go to the outlying districts to buy houses or to build new ones. This leads him to believe that the buyer who makes a careful selection now will be running no risk of a loss in spite of predictive rumors of a slump in house values. "Demand and supply will govern the house market just as it governs other markets," declares Mr. Thomas, "and it will take years before the supply of dwelling places is equal to the demand here. A general slump in prices is therefore next to impossible."

The demand for houses has increased during the last month, said Mr. Thomas. People are finding it necessary to buy places in order to secure places to live. They are also buying now for winter because practically all of the houses for sale are tenanted and it will require from 30 to 60 days before purchasers will receive possession.

Property values here will have to depend on home judgment. Mr. Thomas is convinced. People from other cities consider property prices here very low. People from small villages say that prices here are very high so the market will depend upon the local attitude.

BANKS HERE NOT SWINDLE VICTIMS

Operations of French and Con-federates Did Not Include Appleton.

Wisconsin banks were not caught in the net of machinations spread by the Worthington Evans French gang of Chicago whose swindles among banks in this country amounted to millions of dollars according to word received by John J. Sherman president of the Citizens National bank from Marshall Consins state commissioner of banking.

Since the workings of the French swindling circle was barred in investigation conducted at Chicago, Mr. Consins has been checking up the banks in this state to ascertain the truth of a report that several Wisconsin banks had been victimized. Bankers serving on committees of the bankers' association also were conducting an investigation along the same line but no fraudulent paper floated by the swindlers has been found in Wisconsin banks.

The gang operated by robbing mails, issuing fraudulent bonds and handling stolen paper. The investigation among banks in this state showed that few if any banks here are buying bonds or handling paper from outside the state because their business with their customers precluded the necessity of lending money elsewhere.

Even Cheese Can Be Made By Iron Horse

Tractor Comes to Rescue When Freedom Factory Machinery Breaks Down.

This is a new recipe for the use of a steam tractor.

The Garvey cheese factory in the town of Freedom is the originator of it. Tuesday morning the big boiler which furnishes steam to prepare the milk for the first process in cheese making failed to function as it should and for a time it appeared that four tons of milk delivered to the factory in the morning by farmers of the neighborhood would become a total loss unless it could be taken care of immediately. The cheese maker solved the situation by having a steam tractor owned in the neighborhood, driven to the door of the factory. A hose was attached to the tractor's boiler and connected with the milk vats in the cheese factory.

Presto! There was cheese in the making at once. The factory management will retain the accommodating tractor until the boiler can be repaired.

It is understood the appointments will be announced Sept. 20. Under the former company the trains were dispatched by telephone.

FIVE CALVES TAKE STATE FAIR PRIZES

Dale Kirklin Takes Second Place in Competition With Many Clubs.

Five of the ten calves exhibited at the state fair by boys and girls of the First National Bank calf club were awarded prizes aggregating $44. A pair of Guernsey calves exhibited by Dale Kirklin won second prize in calf club shows and fifth prize among all other calves entered in the whole fair. Four Holstein calves owned by George Paltzer, Richard Janssen, Armand Dobberstein and Hilda Techin, also were prize winners. The ten calves were taken to the fair by freight and were cared for by the six boys whose calves won places in the local contest. The calves were exhibited in stalls which bore a large attractive banner bearing the words "Boys and Girls Calf Club of the First National Bank of Appleton."

Two hundred calves were shown by clubs throughout the state. The showing made by members of the local club therefore is considered very satisfactory. It was the first time in the history of Outagamie county that a club of this kind sent exhibits to the fair. The boys had full charge of their exhibits during the week of the fair and had ample opportunity to talk with older stockmen who have been exhibiting for many years. By conversation the boys had opportunity to learn many things about agricultural matters and the proper methods of exhibition. The expenses of the boys and the cost of exhibiting the calves was borne by the First National Bank.

ARE WE SHOWING THE WHITE FEATHER?

One of the cardinal weaknesses of the American people is to complain of material prosperity. If there is a slowing down of commercial and industrial activity, whether pronounced or limited, the slogan "hard times" is adopted with enthusiasm and they put on long faces and pretend to believe that the country is going to the dogs. The politicians put fuel on the flames and a political press makes the most of the opportunity to spread pessimism and blame the opposition for whatever embarrassments business and the public undergo.

There are two reasons for this discreditable phenomena, both of which are psychological. One is the fetich we make of politics, and the other is a state of superprosperity. The former makes us the victims of illusions, and the latter has whetted our appetite for dollar-getting and our intolerance of anything which interferes with the easy acquiring of money.

In the first place, we have yet to learn that politics does not make prosperity. We have yet to learn that neither presidents nor parties determine our material well-being, nationally or individually. Whether the American people are inordinately or moderately prosperous, or whether they are in so-called hard times, they have made the condition themselves or it has been brought about by world forces over which they have no control.

If politics and parties had supernatural power over trade and business, the United States would today be weltering in prosperity. The certainty of Republican administration was insured at least a year and a half ago, a Republican president was elected nearly a year ago and the party has been in office six months. If legislation it might enact or policies it might adopt could of themselves produce prosperity, their beneficial effects should have been felt, for business has a way of reacting to coming changes long before they actually take place. Instead, however, of political change, much as it was anticipated with satisfaction, producing prosperity or even better times, conditions have not improved and are still awaiting the magic touch of some mysterious force to start them upward. We may be assured the tariff will not do it, nor any other legislation congress may enact. When we have prosperity it will come through our own exertion, through applied optimism, through determination and resourcefulness. The route will not be via Washington. It is much more apt to be via Liverpool, Cherbourg, Hamburg and other foreign ports.

In the second place, the American people do not know when they are well off. They are well off today, despite the large numbers who are out of employment. If they compare their lot with that of any other people on earth they will find themselves at the top of the ladder in material welfare and opportunity. The plight of the German, the French, the Belgian and the British people, scourged by war and carrying financial and economic burdens beside which ours are as nothing, is appalling. Yet we do not hear of their lying down. We do not hear much of complaining. They are bearing their cross with resolution and courage and have set themselves to the task of recovery.

During all the years it requires to restore these countries to anything even approaching the blessings enjoyed by the American people, the United States will go on piling up wealth and living in extravagance and luxury. In the last year the American people have spent $3,000,000,000 on luxuries. If they have to give up the slightest convenience, or cut their profits the slightest degree, they set up a cry that carries to heaven. In a national sense they know nothing of economy, of self-denial, of sacrifice, of distress. Yet they complain of their lot and mourn a recession in business with greater dismay than the loss of a friend. They love to torture themselves with lugubrious postmortems on business and the future. They have no thought of the countless blessings and comforts and privileges which surround them. They gather no strength from a little "closer" living, but bewail the lack of money flowing out of a pump.

The American people should observe the spirit and grit with which Europe is putting its shoulder to the wheel and shutting its eyes to almost insuperable difficulties left by the havoc of war. All lots in life are measurable only by comparison. Ours is still one of luxury and plenty. We have nothing nationally to complain of. We have everything to be thankful for, to stimulate us, to bring out the best there is in us. But are we doing this when we are upset by a little slack in business? Where is the modicum of character that could with so little exertion take up the slack in business? Are we showing the white feather here in this land of plenty? Let us take a good, square look at Europe and answer the question frankly and honestly.

HIDEBOUND POLITICS

The dishonesty and unreliability of political journalism are always glaringly revealed, and yet the public continues to accept this buncomb at par. The policies of the Wilson administration which drew the most bitter denunciation of the Republican press, when continued or ratified by the present administration, are approved and praised. Inconsistencies of position are not of the slightest concern to such publications, of which the Chicago Tribune is the leading offender in this section of the country. A few months ago, when independence was proposed for the Philippine Islands, the Tribune supported the plan, and argued, with very good logic, in a series of editorials, that further retention of the Islands by the United States was undesirable, that the Philippines were entitled to their independence and that this country ought to be relieved of responsibility for them as a source of military and tactical weakness.

The administration is now committed to a reversal of this policy and is for hanging onto the islands with Gen. Wood as their administrator. Of course the Tribune instantly agrees that this is the proper thing to do and on its first page this week we find a cartoon illustrating the merits of American sovereignty over the Philippines. The sea is represented as being beset by sharks of European imperialism and of Japanese militarism. The Tribune knows that this is a phantom of peril conjured up to support a political course without any reference to the actual facts. It knows that the dangers of European imperialism, as against the United States, are nil, and that the dangers of Japanese militarism, are far less than they were a year or two or three years ago. It knows that all of these perils, imaginary or apparent, have been overwhelmingly discounted by the approaching disarmament conference, which is to undertake a solution of Pacific problems, as well as the main plan to cut down military establishments, and yet it continues to hold out the impression to its readers that both Europe and Japan are bent upon policies hostile to the United States and which are apt to breed war. It swallows our own imperialism in the Philippines when it knows it ought to be terminated, and misrepresents an international situation to justify a political end.

This kind of journalism is an affront to American intelligence that sooner or later must break the influence of hidebound political organs.

TODAY'S POEM
By Berton Braloy

THE HAVEN.

A house where love is, be it great or small,
Has something of a spell about it all.
A tender charm of comfort and delight,
It is a haven, welcoming and bright,
And there's a content within its sheltering wall;
A city fair—a vast baronial hall,
A cottage where the ivy tendrils crawl,
Each one may prove—if but its soul is right—
A house where love is.

The dearest spot upon this earthly ball,
Whose warm enchantment holds the heart in thrall,
Is such a home, Dear Master, in Thy might,
Give me the place that's fairest in Thy sight,
And let me have—till final darkness fall—
A house where love is.

HISTORY OF BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

Brooklyn bridge, the first bridge to span the East river, is over a mile in length and cost to date more than $25,000,000, estimates the Automobile Blue Book. It has been numbered among the seven wonders of the world. Designed by John A. Roebling, this masterpiece in engineering was started January, 1870, and opened to traffic May, 1883. During the preliminary work John Roebling met his death. His son, William A., took up the task of completion. He was subsequently seriously injured by fire while in one of the caissons and became an invalid. In compliance with his wish he was stationed in a home on the heights of Brooklyn, from which, with the aid of a telescope and the assistance of his wife, he directed the work from his window until the last rivet was driven.

WITH AND WITHOUT CREAM.

The effect of the drug caffeine, an average dose of which is contained in each cupful of good coffee, is to increase the rate and force of the heart action for two or three hours, to increase the depth and speed of thought for the same length of time, and to increase the elimination from the kidneys for about the same length of time. This is a stimulation. But it is an extraordinary stimulation, unlike any other stimulation of which I am cognizant, at least, in that there seems to be no appreciable after-depression attached to it. As a rule when we apply stimulants, medicinal or otherwise, with measurable effect, there is inevitably also an after-depression or slowing down of the organ or function which has been driven by the stimulus. In the case of coffee, and in less degree, of tea also, the period of stimulation is clearly marked, but even with instruments of precision it is difficult to note any compensatory after-depression. This is peculiar to coffee and tea, so far as I know, and these blessings to mankind are therefore fully entitled to the esteem in which they are held throughout civilization.

Now I am not seeking to boost the use of tea or coffee. On the contrary I am sure both beverages are abused by many families. I have repeatedly condemned the use of tea or coffee in any quantity or strength by children under 16 years of age, whom such stimulants unquestionably harm in many ways. Furthermore I know, as every doctor knows, that tea, and more so coffee, when taken late in the evening or within two or three hours of the time of retiring, is likely to keep one awake. That is a mistake of judgment—one should not stimulate the brain at the time when sleep is desired. Likewise I am aware that many individuals who are already endowed or afflicted with a high rate of metabolism, a too active vital fire or combustion process, a hyperthyroidism, as in exophthalmic goitre, early tuberculosis, and many other diseases, suffer from various distressing effects like palpitation and excitement if they indulge in even small amounts of coffee. Of course this class of invalids or near-invalids should not use stimulants unless by direction.

When coffee is permitted to boil, even for a few seconds, the binding extracts from the coffee grains considerable tannin (tannic acid), which is a abomination to the stomach and which also destroys the delicate flavor of the coffee. The aroma of coffee is best brought out by a brief preliminary treatment with cold water—let it stand a little while before heating, and remember that a pot that shouldn't boil must be watched. (Various percolators make fairly good coffee, I agree, but I can see no improvement on the old-fashioned coffee pot.) I take mine with all the cream the time and place afford, and all the sugar I dare shovel in. However, it is just as beneficial, from the hygienic viewpoint, without cream or sugar, if you like it that way.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

AH, SWEET SIXTEEN!

I am sixteen years old and have heavy long curly hair. It is time for me to do my hair up now, as I am soon to enter college. But when I do my hair up it gives me a headache, it seems so heavy. Would it be wise to bob my hair? Do you think it would grow long again in a few years? (L. A.)

Answer—Impatient youth! Why do your hair up? No regulation about that in any college worth the name. If you have the hair bobbed now it will be a discouraging burden for years.

Vegetarian Diet.

I tried a vegetarian diet and benefited so much by it that I induced my husband to try it for the summer months. He was eight pounds below average weight, but generally well. In three weeks he has lost three pounds. He does quite heavy work. He says he does not seem to have the energy he had when he ate meat every day, but has no more intestinal trouble. This is a sample of his daily regimen:

Breakfast—Orange. Two scrambled eggs. Corn muffins. Two cups of cocoa.

Lunch—Two whole wheat bread lettuce sandwiches. Three glasses of milk.

Dinner—Baked potatoes. String beans. Spinach. Bran muffins, Walnuts. A cereal pudding or strawberries with cream. One or two glasses of milk.

Can you tell me why he should feel undermournished? (Mrs. R. A.)

Answer—It is not a vegetarian diet. Eggs are meat. Milk is meat. I think it would be better for a man doing considerable work to eat some roast beef, mutton or other meat every day or two. But eggs are meat from every point of view. Your husband probably requires a more generous or substantial lunch, as to quantity.

Not in the Air.

Is measles contracted through contact with the person having the disease, or through the air? My child has been exposed, but the mother of the measles patient insists the disease is not conveyed by contagion but only through the air—breathing the breath of the patient. (Mrs. S. E.)

Answer—Not through the air, but from the virus present in the droplets of spray thrown off by coughing, sneezing or talking or laughing.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Thursday, Sept. 10, 1896.

John W. Dey and Julius Buboltz of Cicero, were Appleton visitors.

Mrs. L. F. Kutler was confined to her home with a severe illness.

A daughter was born the day previous to Mr. and Mrs. David Balliet.

Mrs. O. W. Pond returned from Milwaukee, where several weeks previous she submitted to a successful operation.

A group of friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reno Clark the evening previous and celebrated the anniversary of Mrs. Clark's birthday.

Reports from George Bissling, who had been at Colorado Springs for the previous year because of the condition of his health, were not very encouraging.

Miss Effie M. Gerry of Appleton and James A. Wood of Eau Claire, were married the previous evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George W. Gerry, 394 Cherry-st. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John McCoy. The attendants were Miss Joanne Smith and W. S. Wescott.

The performance of the Juvenile band minutes at the Grand Opera house under the direction of W. W. Ellis was well attended and much enjoyed by the large audience present.

Edward Nieldhold of Wakefield and Miss Retta Christensen were married the day previous at the home of the bride's parents.

A residence on Oneida-st. north of Second-ave. owned by Mrs. Nellie Wilmot and occupied by Edward Crouch, was totally destroyed by fire.

Gen. Joseph Torrence of Chicago, with his family and retinue of servants, arrived at Roberts resort at Neenah, where they were to be quartered for several weeks.

MENDING.

Electrician's sticky black tape is excellent for mending breaks in pipes or bowls. If the weak spot is in a pipe, wrap the tape around it tightly, leaving a generous amount on each end. If there is a crack in the bowl, run the tape along the crack.

BY NO MEANS UNCOMMON.

It is common among the insane to have delusions of persecution. And plenty of sane people have them.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

What Is A Congressman
By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Is a Congressman a legislator, or is he an errand boy, political agent, sight-seeing guide, employment bureau, and general adviser of the poor and needy?

If it be conceded that he is in part a maker of laws, then how many laws at one time is he supposed to be able to consider and understand?

These are questions that a good many Congressmen are asking themselves. The number of things that a Congressman is nowadays called upon to do, besides attending to legislation, is enough to appall any strong man. Besides that, consider the number of laws to which he is expected to devote his attention. The popular theory of government in this country is that if there is anything the matter with anything or anybody, the remedy is to pass a law about it. We have piled up a mountain of laws, and each year the mountain grows more than it grew the year before. The faster the law grows, the less consideration does each of the laws receive. The legislators who are supposed to be carefully considering these laws never heard of most of them.

Whither does this process lead?

In devising the American Government, it is highly probable that the fathers of the country had no idea of the way in which the functions of some of the officers of the Government would be expanded and degraded. They had the idea in their innocent bewigged heads that Congress would meet once every year, each second session being a short one, and that each Congressman and Senator would devote himself to making laws. Some cynical present-day Members of Congress suggest that these wise old statesmen intended that Congress should meet to prevent laws from being enacted—at least too many of them. If this was their purpose, their successors in the halls of the national legislature have failed miserably.

As Once It Was

A Senator or a Representative was intended in the original plan to be a dignified gentleman who would come to Washington to deliberate over the state of the Union, and after sage consultation with his colleagues, enact a few masterly statutes which would lay the foundation for continuing the peace, progress and prosperity of the nation. Naturally, the Halls of Congress would be the outlet for more or less oratory by gentlemen who felt an irrepressible urge in this direction. This was expected, tolerated, and, if it was really good, applauded and widely quoted throughout the then narrow confines of the new nation.

From the very beginning the scope of the duties falling upon the shoulders of those making up the American Congress, particularly the lower branch, has increased steadily. The constituents making up many districts have fallen into the habit of using their Representatives in Washington for every errand and favor they can think up to ask him. The volume of law enactment takes so much time and has grown to such proportions, too, that rarely indeed can a member find time to devote to any private business or enterprise. The long adjournment of Congress from March 4 until the first Monday in December is an almost forgotten thing. In the rush of present day affairs and for many years past it has almost been necessary for the President to assemble the Congress in extraordinary session to take up urgent matters which would not wait. In the midst of this rush, the Members of the House have to keep in touch with affairs in their home districts in order that they may keep their jobs, as election day for them comes every two years.

Particularly at this time, with the inauguration of a Republican regime after eight years of Democratic administration, there is a terrific amount of additional pressure on every Member of Congress. Constituents, usual-

TAX HIGH SCHOOL BEYOND CAPACITY

Increase in Enrolment Makes Problem of Quarters an Acute One.

Kaukauna.—Two hundred and four youths of the city have enrolled as students of Kaukauna high school and are crowded into a building with facilities for only 125 people. It is expected the enrolment will be increased by several more before many days. An increase of a dozen students over last year's enrolment is noted.
According to the first classification of students, the junior class has the largest comparative increase. There are 47 juniors as compared with the class of 28 of last year. The seniors have decreased in number from 33 to 27. Freshmen this year number 73, an increase of 7 students over last year. From last year's freshman class, 37 members have returned as sophomores.
In spite of the fact that the students are crowded together, most of them sitting two in a seat, efforts will be made to care for all. It is thought the new vocational laws have kept many in school who otherwise would try to get work and attend the vocational school.

MOTHER GETS 20 YEAR SENTENCE

Mrs. Koscielnys Is Convicted for Firing Barn in Which Children Burned.

Ashland.—Pleading guilty before Judge Risjord in Circuit court here of setting fire to a barn in which her own daughter and two stepchildren burned to death, Mrs. Eva Koscielnys of Lublin, was sentenced to 20 years in Waupun.

Mrs. Koscielnys blamed her act on family troubles, declaring she wanted to make trouble for her husband. She said she did not expect her children would be cremated in the flames, but that she expected them to escape as soon as they noticed the fire.

The three victims were sleeping in the barn among piles of hay when the fire started. An investigation by the state fire marshal and the district attorney disclosed that they were unable to open the door to escape.

EMBRYO BREEDERS INSPIRED BY VISIT TO BADGER FAIR

Calf Club Members Enjoy Children's Camp and Sight on Grounds.

Inspired by their visit to the state fair last week, 22 boys and girls, members of the First National Bank calf club, are back on Outagamie county farms with new interest and new zeal for farm life and work.

From the time the children left here August 30 till their return Sept. 1, every minute was filled with pleasure and excitement. The journey to and from Milwaukee was made by truck. Comfortable seats were provided and the children were very little fatigued either going or coming. The size of the party made the excursion sociable and gave children from different parts of the county a chance to become acquainted.

Met By Nyhus
Twenty miles from Milwaukee the party was met by Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent for the bank, who piloted the truck to the boys and girls camp on the fair grounds. He also piloted them out of the city on their return.

Arrived at camp, little was done the first evening except to give the children a good supper and get them established in the camp. Arrangements in the camp were such as provided the maximum comfort under hygienic conditions. Boys and girls had their own quarters and each child slept on an individual cot.

350 In Camp

As there were 350 children in the camp, local boys and girls had a chance to extend their acquaintance widely. Duties assigned to them gave an active part in conducting the camp and taught them many new things. Helpful drills and supervised recreation also were of benefit and they enjoyed every moment spent in this way. On Wednesday afternoon the children were allowed to visit every part of the grounds and see all the exhibits. This in itself was an education which they could get in no other way. Some of the parents attended the fair but they were not concerned about their children, knowing that the camp was in good hands. This permitted them to enjoy the fair to the utmost.

Appleton business men and firms which sent the children to the fair and paid all expenses were the Fair A. J. Ingold; Fraser Lumber and Manufacturing company, A. Galpins Sons, Ideal Lumber and Coal company, Post Publishing company, Potts Wood company, Schlafer Hardware Co., N. Simon Cheese Co., Willy and Co., and the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association.

To Make Bowling Pins

the training school and John A. Lonsdorf, assessor of incomes and supervisor of assessors of Outagamie Co., will talk on their work in its relation to public education.

Teachers will meet in three divisions for the institute work. Assembly sessions will be held in the court room.

THE STAGE

"Irene" Here Tonight
Tonight at the Appleton Theatre, the Vanderbilt Producing Company will present "Irene," the international musical comedy hit, which ran two years at Vanderbilt Theatre, New York. The authors of "Irene" are James Montgomery whose other successes are "Going Up," "Ready Money," "Nothing But the Truth," all of which were, like "Irene," famous hits in London and on the continent while Harry Tierney composed the music and Joseph McCarthy wrote the lyrics. And it was staged by Edward Royce. Among the song hits now being sung on four continents are "Alice Blue Gown," "Castle of Dreams," "Irene," "We're Getting Away With It," and "The Last Part of Every Party." A special orchestra is a feature of tonight's performance and the cast includes: Ann Milburn, Mary E. Moore, Peggy Dunn, Ursula O'Hare, Emma De Weals, Elizabeth McCall, Ada May Talbot, Frank McNellis, Frank Ross, Robert M. Burns, Frank Harrington, William Cohan and George C. Mantell.

Viaduct Hearing Is Scheduled Sept. 24

Wisconsin Highway Commission Will Hear Public's View of Council's Request for State Aid at Gathering in City Hall.

Appleton people will have opportunity to express their views on the bridge problem at a public hearing called by the Wisconsin Highway commission for 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 24 in the city hall. Formal notice of the meeting has been received here from W. O. Hotchkiss, secretary of the commission.

Harvest Dance at Hampel's Corners, Friday, Sept. 9th. Music by Stecker Bros. Orchestra. You are cordially invited.

This hearing follows action of the city council at a recent meeting, in which the Wisconsin Highway commission for financial aid and provided by statute to construct a viaduct across Fox river just west of the present Lake-st. bridge. The city fathers never went on record as definitely favoring the project, but believe the proposal to secure a fund of several hundred thousand dollars from the state should not be overlooked. They expect to learn from the hearing just how the taxpayers of Appleton feel toward a viaduct.

This hearing, if well attended and representative of the people at large rather than those who favor only the viaduct as the remedy for traffic congestion, either will tend toward a more definite decision for the Lake and Cherry-st. bridge projects, or will cause them to be subordinated to the idea of a central arterial vein connecting the two portions of the city.

Little thought was given the viaduct proposition until about two months ago because of its tremendous cost, said to approximate a million dollars. John Conway then announced at a meeting of the city planning commission that the state and county each would be compelled to pay one-third of the cost if the Wisconsin Highway commission agreed that the viaduct was needed. This is possible under a statute permitting outside financial aid for construction of arterial bridges more than 475 feet long, not including approaches.

Taxpayers are expected to voice approval or opposition at this hearing, because any subsequent objections will be too late. Should the commission decide from the testimony that the viaduct is necessary to take care of the traffic, state engineers will arrange a survey to decide its most plausible location. The matter of bonding the city for its share of the cost must be put up to the voters at a special election, thus giving the people of Appleton the final say in the matter.

FOUR ARE ARRESTED FOR STEALING TRAIN RIDES

Louis Belanger, Leonard Belanger, William Kimmers and Roy Pomeroy were arrested here Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff J. W. Blue, charged with stealing rides on Chicago and Northwestern trains. In municipal court Wednesday morning the young men pleaded guilty and said they had ridden the cars home from Brillion. They were held for further investigation which was to be conducted Wednesday afternoon.

WIDEN SURFACE OF CARVER-ST. ROAD

Contracts Are Awarded by Road and Bridge Committee at Meeting.

Acting on the request of State Highway Engineer A. R. Hirst that the Carver-st. stretch of Brickyard-rd. be widened to 20 feet, the county highway and bridge committee in a meeting at the courthouse Tuesday voted to lay concrete 20 feet wide on this portion of the road.

The state engineer's letter expressed the opinion that the concrete should be at least 18 feet wide at this place but he said it would be much better to make it 20. Aside from this piece, the Brick-yd. will be concreted to the regular width of 16 feet.

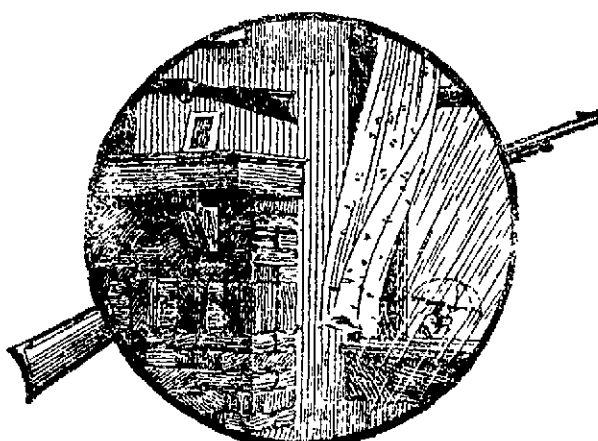

The committee let the contract for construction of the Kaukauna-Sagola road to the Blake Construction Co. for $16,835.58. The contract for the Lompke bridge was let to Charles Appleton for $870.58 and a retaining wall on the highway in the town of Oneda will be constructed by the Garvey-Weyenberg Construction company for $2,164.25. All bids ran close, the range being little in excess of $100. The committee will meet again Sept. 12.

Does your rifle barrel say

If, even though you always clean your rifle before putting it away, there is a tendency for rust to eat tiny "pits" in the barrel, the trouble is caused by the ammunition you use. The priming in such ammunition attracts rust.

for the Papermakers to Bust Up Here.

Appleton is to play its first game of the post season series with Fond du Lac on the home grounds and judging from a report from the Reupings, Brandt's men will have some load on their shoulders. Fond du Lac boasts of having the best coached team in the state and its teamwork is said to be remarkable.

On Labor day the Reupings played three games and won them all. In the morning they defeated Waupun by a score of 5 to 3 and in the afternoon they played a double header with West Bend at Fond du Lac and won by scores of 4 to 2 and 2 to 1. They lost however to Lange's Red Sox of Milwaukee by a score of 3 to 2 when one of the players threw his mitt at the ball.

Fondy's infield consists of good men and seasoned players. Smith, catcher, caught for Oshkosh last summer for a few games. Bohman is first sacker, J. Farns, second base, McLaughlin, short stop and Du Frame, third base. Menasha is to meet the Overalls in the Sawdust City Sunday.

Sport Views And News

Tex Rickard is trying to get Mike Gibbons signed up for a bout with Johnny Wilson, alleged holder of the middleweight crown. Evidently, Rickard is so disgusted with the showing of the champion (?) in the fight against Downey that he wants the veteran St. Paul Irishman to step into the ring with the Boston Italian and wail on the everlasting daylight out of him. Unless we miss our guess, that it just what Gibbons would do despite his old age and broken hands.

For over two years, Christy Mathewson, one of the greatest pitchers, the national game has ever known, has been fighting for his life against the dreaded "T. B." at Saranac. In waging the war against the disease, Matty's life savings have been pretty well eaten up. When big leaguers heard that the wolf was beginning to howl around the door of the Mathewson family, they immediately stepped into action and a benefit game will be staged for "Big Six" between the Giants and Braves in New York, Sept. 30. Oh yes when it comes to a showdown, organized baseball has a heart after all.

An injured hand didn't prevent Bobby Jones from playing in the Georgia state golf tournament. Playing with his "left" idle, due to burns, the youthful link star shot a 42 in the first nine holes which measured a distance of 3,250 yards. He got a six on a 610 yard hole and followed with a four on a 525 yard drive. If Jones had been using two hands he probably would have knocked Col. Bogey off his high perch.

With the opening of school, the scholastic footballers of the Fox River valley are swinging into action. Green Bay, East and West, Appleton, and Oshkosh loom up as the strongest contenders for gridiron honors in this neck of the woods.

Watching The Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero Ray Caldwell with the bases full and one down in the ninth struck out Basier and Cole, a pinch hitter, the Indians beating the Tigers 5 to 4.

Bambino Ruth socked his 52nd and Meusel socked his 19th in a double-header which the Yanks took from the Red Sox at 6 to 2 and 7 to 1.

Williams and Koney hit a pair of homers each but they did not help the Phillies who dropped two to the Giants at 7 to 2 and 13 to 4.

Grimes pulled an error that started a Red rally in the tenth inning and the Cubs lost 5 to 2. Groh was safe on the wobble, Roush singled, Daubert doubled and Bressler singled.

Russell, a rookie White Sox pitcher was given a warm coming out party by the Browns who smacked him for 13 hits in five innings and won 10 to 2.

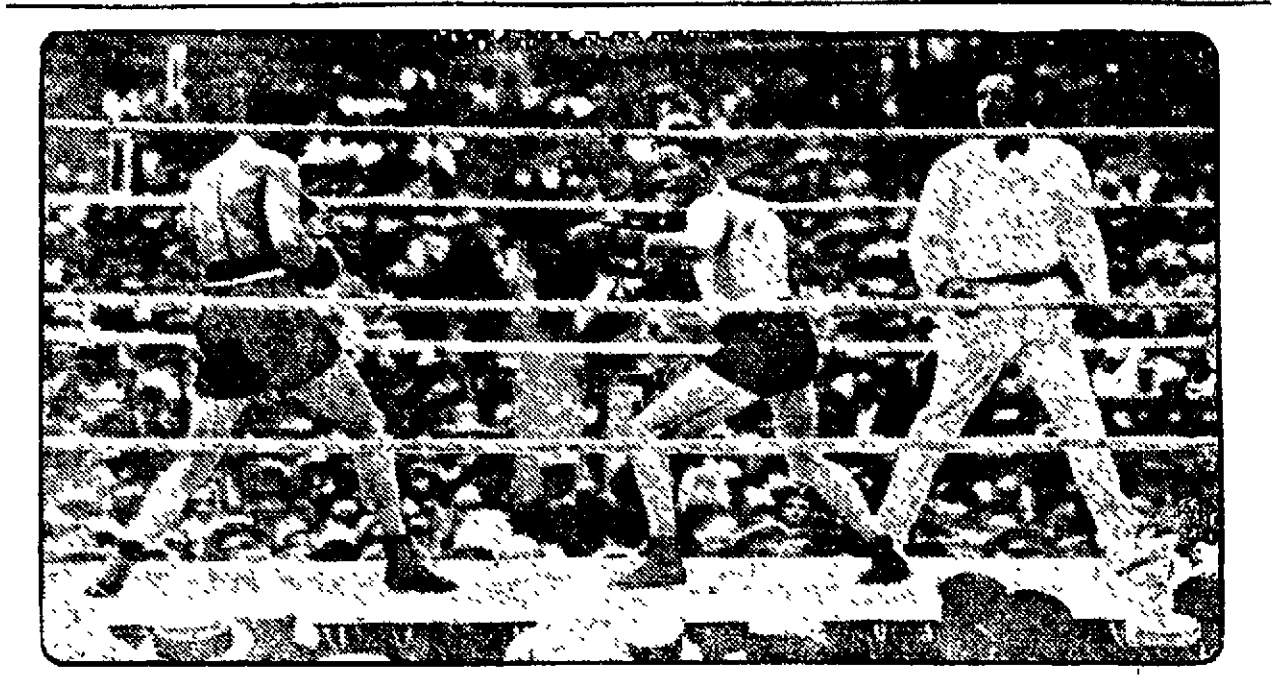

PROS TO PLAY FOR GOLF TITLE AT BLUE MOUND

Milwaukee-Wisconsin golf professionals are preparing for the 1921 state open championship to be held on the Blue Mound Country club course next Sunday and Monday.

Dave Wilson, secretary of the Professional Golfers' association of Wisconsin, in charge of the coming tournament, plans an interesting contest, in which the pre-nuptial event on Sunday will be a fine feature. Tutors from all over the state—there are 26—will be here to play for the financial prize and the open title.

Arthur Clarkson, champion the last two seasons, formerly of Kenosha, now is at the Ambassadors' club on the Pacific coast and will not defend his honors. The title is open to a taker. Chick Fraser formerly of La Crosse left that club last year, and will not be back. Bobby Peebles, who made such a fine showing in the recent western open at Beloit last year. He will not return. Which gives some Wisconsin pro a chance to "slip in."

Finish Of Championship Fizzle

GIANTS AND YANKS INCREASE LEADS

Wednesday's Games Make It
Look Like a New York
Pennant Battle.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Both New York entries in the major league pennant races moved up Wednesday. The Giants gained a full game on the Pirates by defeating the Phils in a twin bill while Pittsburgh was idle. The Yanks increased their lead a half game by winning a doubleheader from the Red Sox while Cleveland was winning one from the Tigers.

The Giants are now eight points behind the Pirates. The Giants have won 82 and lost 54 while the Pirates have won 80 and lost 51. Neither team plays Thursday. The Giants go against the Robins tomorrow and the Pirates take on the Cubs in Chicago.

The Yanks now hold a ten point lead over the Indians. Each team has won 82 games but the Indians have lost two more. The Yanks move on to the Athletics today for a three-game series while the Indians continue with the Tigers.

STRAW "KELLYS" TAKE AIR AT BABE'S 52ND HOMER

New York.—New Yorkers take off their hats to Bambino Ruth. When the Babe hit his 52nd homer in the second game with the Boston Red Sox yesterday, the game had to be called for five minutes while the umpires and ground-keepers collected a swarm of "straw kellys" that were tossed out of the stands. More than fifty hats were carried to the New York dugout.

CATALINA ISLAND TO BE CUB TRAINING CAMP

Chicago.—Permanent headquarters for the Chicago Cubs training camp, has been established on Catalina Island. President William Veeck announced Thursday. Veeck said he will go to the island immediately after the close of the present season to build an up to date ball park. He will be accompanied by Bill Kullifer, manager of the Cubs.

Wise Heads Think Tilden Has Little Show in World
Tennis Tourney.

New York.—William T. Tilden stands on the books as the greatest tennis player in the world. In the past two years, the tall, square shouldered Philadelphian has acquired two British titles, two American titles and a French title.

Starting tomorrow in Philadelphia in the first round of the national singles championships he goes into the tournament that carries with it an almost clean right to a world's championship.

However, court critics who have been following the summer's play predict that the champion will do little more than start.

William Johnston the fiery little Californian, team mate of Tilden in two Davis cup victories and twice an American champion is the choice of the experts for the championship.

Through one of those peculiar strokes of the draw Tilden, Johnston and Vincent Richards, the youthful Fordham star are in the bottom group of the 16 American British Australian and Japanese stars that will compete for the title.

That means that one or two of the big three will go out early in the play.

BOB ROPER TO BATTLE O'HARE ON SATURDAY

New York.—Bob Roper, the Chicago heavyweight who has fought several fights at the local clubs with fair success, will be seen in action again here on next Saturday night. He has been matched to meet Eddie O'Hare, the promising local light heavyweight, in the main go of 12 rounds at the Commonwealth Sporting club of Harlem in their show that night. Matchmaker McMahon will compel each fighter to post a forfeit as a guarantee that he will be on hand to go through with the match.

MENASHA BOXER BILLED IN MARINETTE MATCH

Jabber Young of Menasha, a boxer in the 145 pound class is scheduled to a match with Archie Meissner of Menominee, Mich., in a semiwindup at a boxing match Tuesday, Sept. 13 at Marinette Armory. The match is given under the auspices of the Marinette post of the American legion.

Matty McCue of Racine will meet Jimmy Stewart of Brooklyn in the windup battle.

ENGLISH GOLFER NOT TO TURN PROFESSIONAL

St. Louis, Mo.—William I. Hunter, British amateur golf champion here to play in the United States amateur championship on Sept. 17 to 24, on Saturday repeated his denial of reports circulated after his triumph that he would turn professional, and added that he probably would not return to England, where he was in the postal service.

FAST BOXING CARD BOOKED SEPT. 21

Johnson Will Bring Eddie De-beau and Frankie Kick
Here for Bout.

With the approach of autumn and winter comes the reopening of the athletic season in Appleton. Elmer Johnson is giving sports a real send-off into popularity by booking Eddie Debeau the sensational St. Paul flash and Frankie Kick of Rockford, in a boxing bout at Armory G Wednesday, Sept. 21.

Debeau, a contender for feather weight honors, was selected as the best boy for his size. Kick was picked as his most logical opponent. He is the hardest hitting boy of his weight in the middle west. The combination is the result of a countrywide search for two fast light weight boys, he heaved to be the fastest card that could be arranged.

Joe Martin, Milwaukee, and Jimmie Webb will appear in the semiwindup. Other preliminaries are being arranged.

U. S. WAR SECRETARY IS REAR ADMIRAL IN NAVY

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Few army officers knew until Wednesday that the head of the war department is a rear admiral in the navy.

Secretary of War Weeks declared that it the United States should go to war the navy might send him to sea. He is a reserve rear admiral and is the ranking reserve officer in the United States navy, subject under naval regulations to call for active service in time of war. Weeks is a graduate of Annapolis naval academy and a member of the famous class of 1881.

NEED HONESTY IN WORLD DEALINGS TO INSURE PEACE

Northcliffe Declares Pacific
Problems Must Be Solved to End Wars.

Special to PostCrescent
Honolulu.—"There are problems on the Pacific for which the allies must find a solution and find it quickly," This from Lord Northcliffe, the famous British publisher, in his first direct statement on the coming disarmament conference and the Pacific problems which it will consider.

Lord Northcliffe was interviewed here on his journey around the world, including stops in Fiji, Australia, New Zealand, Japan and thence back to London.

"I am going east to go to school," said Lord Northcliffe. "I will not express views on subjects with which I am only partially familiar and that at second-hand."

"There is one point, however, which very deeply concerns the situation on the Pacific coast—a point upon which I should like to talk to you—and that is the vital question of the reduction of armaments."

"That question is, to my mind, one of the most momentous which has ever been laid before any gathering of nations; and upon its successful solution depends, I am firmly convinced, the peace, prosperity and happiness of the world for many years to come."

"The burden of armaments which has so long lain on the shoulders of civilization must be very largely reduced if we are ever to recover from the shock of the war."

"It will not be easy to find immediately a basis upon which all the nations concerned will agree to curtail their armaments."

"We in Great Britain, yourselves, our allies, the whole world, perhaps are inclined today, in the reaction which the end of the war has brought upon us, to lean anew upon fighting strength as the one force which renders possible even the patched and tattered peace we have so far managed to achieve."

"The Washington conference must scotch this dire peril, and I am absolutely persuaded that if every delegate there will keep before his eyes this single supreme object, and, in so doing, faithfully represent the opinion of his country—and, what is equally important, if we, the shareholders in this tremendous business of renewing the sanity of the world, will do the utmost in our power to prevent the intrusion upon our conference of any of the usual common sense which is latent in every civilized nation will see to it that the greatest council the world has ever known will be carried on in an atmosphere of sincerity and good faith."

"Unless that atmosphere can be created and made to endure; unless each and every nation honestly shows that it is represented at Washington for the single purpose for which the genuine limitation of armaments, and that no thought of tactical gains of any sort will fail, and the greatest opportunity in history for securing permanent and universal peace and prosperity will have been thrown away."

"We must all be mentally disarmed before we begin to discuss the limitation of armaments. We must men at the table as friends indissolubly bound together by one great purpose. But we must realize at the outset that it is of the first importance to the successful issue of the conference that our minds should be open and that we should not, by any premature action, prejudice the situation which may arise after the labors of the conference are concluded."

"The economic havoc wrought by the war can only be mitigated in a long period not only of peace but of freedom from all thought of wars probable and improbable."

"There is only one thing which will save the world now, and that is hard, unrelenting work in the cause of reconstruction. For many years to come we shall none of us have time, if the Washington conference bears fruit, for any thought of war."

"In President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes I saw two men of distinction, who, of all the eminent men with whom I have discussed this great conference, seemed to my humble thinking most fitted to preside over such a council."

"Both are men who have the peace of the world at heart, to whom the inevitable difficulties of the discussion no less than the gravity of the issue, are perfectly clear."

"If, as I said, the conference should fail, the consequences will be utterly disastrous to the whole world, but I am strong in my belief that it will not fail, it will rise from its debilitations with a tremendous effort to its credit on behalf of civilization."

NAVY ASKS BUDGET OF NEARLY HALF BILLION

Washington, D. C.—Despite the disarmament conference the navy department submitted estimates to Budget Director Dawes, calling for expenditures during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1922, which equal those of the present year, it was learned Wednesday.

MAN KILLS SELF AND WIFE WITH SHOTGUN

Sacramento, Calif.—Earl A. Early, Fair Oaks farmer, blew his wife's head off with a shotgun and then turning the weapon upon himself, blew off his own head. The bodies, clad in their night clothes, were found in the kitchen early Wednesday by one of their young children. Jealousy was the motive, according to notes left by Early.

Frankness

By Roy Grove
"How come?" Bobby Jones, youthful Atlanta golf star who finished fourth in the western open tourney at Cleveland, was asked when he returned to the southland.

"Well, the wind blew—and then I did," replied Bobby. Which is what might be called the last word in frankness.

Drawbacks
Being an amateur champion is expensive. The public little realizes the sacrifices a man must make.

Take tennis, for example. Bill Tilden, the champ, is on the go all year round, either in matches or in training. Summers in the east, winters in California or on eastern indoor courts.

Which explains Bill's announced intention of quitting this year. He's getting along in years and wants to settle down in business.

Business and amateur championships don't mix.

Well fans, now Champ Johnny Wilson knows how it feels, too. He didn't get his money's worth, either.

Wonder what it is in that Philadelphia cellar that keeps both the Phillies and the Athletics sticking around?

Some rookies ball players figure they should draw more coin than an old timer, 'cause it's harder for them when they don't know how.

While boxing commissions are squabbling over weights, they should consider the guys who stand four hours waiting for the ticket window to open.

Race horses go round in circles, too—but they get some place. Yeah, some place—and some don't.

JITNEYS GETTING CAR MONOPOLIES

Saginaw and Bay City, Mich.,
Wrestling With Transportation Problems.

Special to PostCrescent
Saginaw, Mich.—Jitney busses have a monopoly on the transportation in the twin cities of Saginaw and Bay City, and there is every indication that they will continue to have it for several months, if not permanently.

When the Bay City-Saginaw Railway company ceased operation of its cars Aug. 10, it left these two towns and surrounding villages served by its 50 miles of interurban lines without street cars.

The liabilities of the company when it was put into the hands of Receiver Otto Schupp, president of the Bank of Saginaw, were placed at $2,589,851, with assets of $5,000,000.

It was said then that the extensive jitney service in the two cities had wrecked the street railway company, just as is the case in Des Moines.

Railway's Troubles
Nearly a month has passed, and still the affairs of the defunct corporation have not been straightened out. Several things are standing in the way of settlement of the company's affairs. It has back city taxes to pay. Rolling stock should be put in better condition. There is much paving along the tracks to be done.

City councils and Boards of Commerce are wrangling over whether the company by ceasing its car service technically has violated its franchise in such a way to make possible municipal operation of the lines. Meanwhile motor bus routes are being considered seriously as the best plan for overcoming the difficulty.

Jitney Proposals

One plan is for the formation of a local company capitalized at $500,000, of which $75,000 already has been pledged. The other has been put forward by the Wolverine Transit Company.

Five million of you will go afield this fall.

Yet game is more abundant than it was 20 years ago when hunters were fewer.

What is the reason? Good game laws which are obeyed. The good sportsman no longer breaks laws. He has seen the results of game protection. He knows that the lawbreaker is spoiling his own sport and the other fellows.

For your convenience, the Department of Agriculture has printed all the 1921 game laws by states in a little book with an ornamental cover. Every hunter should have a copy of this book. You can get yours by writing to our Washington Information Bureau. Use the attached coupon, write your name and address plainly, and enclose a two-cent stamp for return postage.

Don't Shiver This Winter Heat With Warm Air

THE ABOVE FURNACE can be easily installed in your basement and will burn any fuel—even slack coal, and will positively warm your home to an even temperature in any weather.

The furnace is all cast iron—Rudy charcoal iron noted for its ability to withstand heavy firing and strain. The five gallon waterpot humidifier moistens the air while it is being heated. It takes less fuel. The furnace is so designed that all heat is transmitted upstairs instead of up the chimney.

HI-Y BOYS RETURN FROM CAMP TRIP

Lee C. Rasey Speaks on Clean Living at Camp Manitowish Gathering.

J. E. Dennison, boys work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Wallace Marshall, Melvin Marshall, Alden Behnke, Albert Timme, William Meyer and David Bender returned Monday evening from the Hi-Y training period at Camp Manitowish which lasted from Tuesday, Aug. 23 to Monday, Sept. 5.

The first week was given over to canoe trips. The Appleton boys divided some going north and the others traveling to Cisco, Mich. The latter group passed over about 25 lakes and through Manitowish river on their trip. They saw innumerable species of birds and water fowls. Two of the boys even had the thrilling experience of being lost in the heavy woods, fortunately for only an hour.

Upon their return to camp on Saturday evening the boys learned that Principal Lee C. Rasey was to be the first speaker of the conference period. Mr. Rasey gave inspiring talks on Sunday on "The Manly or Natural Traits of Character in Christ's Life" and on "Things the Hi-Y Can Do in High School."

The boys who returned Monday brought with them about four additional pounds of flesh, a nice coat of tan and a strong determination to stand out in the high school as an organization, which has adopted for its slogan "Clean Living, clean speech, clean athletics and clean scholarship."

PARKS WILL SING
FEATURE SONGS

Production Manager for Legion Play, "All Aboard," Pleased With Talent.

"All Aboard" for Pleasure Bay, on the good ship S. S. Florida. Those wishing to take this delightful pleasure trip had better make reservations at once as everything points to an early sell-out.

Among the cast who will assist in drowning gloom will be Marvin C. Parks as Billy Brady who will sing a "Sweetheart in Every Port." Mr. Carlos Farrar as Johnny Grady will sing "My Dream Has at Last Come True" a beautiful waltz ballad, assisted by Miss Dorothy Peterson who works opposite him as Dorothy Brady. "The Bashful Bumble Bee" and "Antidotes" are big song hits of the play.

Mr. Parks, producer for the John B. Rogers Producing company, in discussing the play Thursday said: "It is a well known fact that the theater going public is demanding a better class of plays, and that same element is asking for the same improvement and execution in amateur productions. Realizing that this demand must be met, the company has spared no expense in making its productions measure up to professional standards. The time has passed for the amateur actor to put on shows with the idea that 'any old thing will do.'"

Mr. Parks is pleased with the clever talent furnished him for the production of "All Aboard" which will show here next Monday and Tuesday night at the Appleton Theater for the benefit of the American Legion. Arrangements for additional chairs on both nights have been made by Thomas Morrissey.
